Chair of governors at the school, Richard France, said: "We are shocked and deeply saddened by the loss of Mr Rowlands and our thoughts are with his family at this most difficult time. He was extremely popular with pupils, staff and parents and we will miss him greatly.

"Under Mr Rowlands' leadership the school strived to be a supportive and caring place for its pupils. That will continue to be the case as the whole school community comes to terms with its loss."

COMBINED 19–YEAR DIRECTORSHIP BAN FOR 'GOLF SCAM' COMPANY BOSSES

Report by Danielle Thompson

THE bosses of an Ormskirk–based business which went into liquidation in 2013 have been banned from being directors of a company for a combined 19 years following an investigation by the Official Receiver.

Christopher Smullen, 44 and Sean Keating, 54, were directors of Worldwide Sports Investments Limited based in Church Street in the town, which purported to offer investments in a golf course and hotel development in Portugal and advertised the scheme as endorsed by top golfer Lee Westwood.

Eleven investors were duped into handing over more than £275,000 but an investigation by the Official Receiver's Public Interest Unit (North), part of the Insolvency Service, a Government agency which provides services to those affected by financial distress or failure, found the company had no agreements with the hotel or the golfer and had used their images without consent.

Worldwide Sports Investments Limited indicated that it had bought the hotel in 2010 and guaranteed investors 200% returns. But the company was liquidated in 2013 owing shareholders £278,201 and investigators found that it had no money or assets.

Christopher Smullen

Christopher Smullen received a disqualification order in May, barring him from promoting, managing or directing a limited company for 13 years, from June 2015, after an investigation found he spent more than £275,000 of investors' money on gambling, flights and hotels.

The court heard that between July 2010 and February 2013, he misled 11 individuals into making payments totalling £275,000 and administration fees totalling £2,145 to the company – but the company was eventually liquidated with no money and no assets in 2013, owing creditors and shareholders at least £278,201.

Analysis of the company's bank statements showed that Mr Smullen spent £194,914 on gambling, resulting in net losses of £11,629 to the company and he failed to prove that cheque payments of £72,856 and £11,434 paid to airlines and hotels on debit card were for legitimate company business.

He also failed to account for cash withdrawals totalling £51,777 and £43,900 spent on items

West Lancs cancer survival rates most improved in England

CANCER survival rates in West Lancashire are the most improved in England, according to a recent report.

MPs on the all party parliamentary group on cancer reported patients in the area showed the most improvement nationally in one–year cancer survival rates between 2011 and 2012.

In West Lancashire, 72.2% of patients survived cancer for more than 12 months in 2012, against 70.1% in 2011. Survival rates were already above the national average of 69% and the figures also showed West Lancashire in the top 10 best–performing areas of the country.

People who survive cancer after one year are more likely to be alive five years later, matching Nordic countries which have some of the best cancer survival rates in Europe.

However, where the UK as a whole is significantly weaker than Nordic countries is in making sure patients reach the important one–year anniversary.

Early diagnosis is a key factor in treating cancer effectively and it is believed many people leave it too late, reducing their chances of surviving for more than a year.

For example, around a quarter of cancer patients in England are diagnosed as emergency cases which means they are on average twice as likely to die within a year compared to people diagnosed by an urgent GP referral.

Dr Jack Kinsey, Macmillan GP and GP executive lead for NHS West Lancashire CCG, said: "The report showed West Lancashire is in the top 10 for best one–year cancer survival rate. This is good news for West Lancashire patients and is a tribute to the hard work of local GPs, the hospitals and other services that our patients use. We will continue to work hard and improve our position."

Spanish 'mugshot tour' in bid to track down Ormskirk fugitive

Report by Danielle Thompson

THE face of a wanted man from Ormskirk is being shown on a 13–foot digital screen on a tour across Spain as part of a scheme to track down the country's 18 most–wanted fugitives.

Crime–fighting charity Crimestoppers and the National Crime Agency are aiming to track down individuals wanted as part of Operation Captura.

David McDermott, 41, from Ormskirk, is one of 18 fugitives wanted by UK law enforcement agencies in connection with serious crimes.

McDermott is wanted on suspicion of conspiracy to supply cocaine and conspiracy to blackmail.

The fugitives' faces are being shown on a digital screen, attached to the back of a van, which is on an eight–day tour around British ex–pat 'hot spots' in Spain, as it believed they could be hiding among British communities in areas including Benidorm, Malaga and Puerto Banus. The van's tour will finish on Saturday (July 11).

Crimestoppers and the NCS hope that putting the fugitives' faces in plain sight near to where they live, parking the screen outside nightclubs, bars, British supermarkets and restaurants, will help to flush them out.

David McDermott

McDermott is believed to be part of a Liverpool–based crime gang that conspired to supply 400 kilogrammes of cocaine, with a street value estimated at £71million, which was discovered hidden in a consignment of frozen Argentinian beef in a container at Tilbury Docks, Essex two years ago.

Not knowing the cocaine had been seized, McDermott, who is 5ft, 11 ins tall and has a two–inch scar on his wrist, was observed by NCA officers meeting other members of the group.

The cocaine was replaced with dummy packages of bricks and the container was taken on a lorry to its end destination – a cold–storage unit in Wigan. A member of the crime group collected two holdalls but later dumped them when he realised the drugs were not inside.

NCA officers watched and listened as McDermott met with members of the crime group at the Aintree Retail Park. He was allegedly involved in the planning of a violent mission to recover the cocaine, not knowing it had been seized by law enforcement.

The use of physical and sexual violence against anyone who had information was discussed.

Five members of the group have already received sentences totalling 42 years.

In March, McDermott was placed on the list of the 10 most wanted fugitives from the UK.

that appear unrelated to legitimate business expenses.

Fellow director, Sean Keating, 54, gave an undertaking to the Secretary of State for Business, Innovation and Skills not to promote, manage, or be a director of a limited company for six years from September 2014.

He did not dispute that between July 2010 and August 2011 he facilitated the dissipation of investment funds totalling at least £94,091 and that he failed by not overseeing the use of the bank account – of which he was the sole signatory – to ensure that money removed from the account was for legitimate company expenditure and did not come from monies held on trust.

He also signed at least seven blank cheques and passied them over to another director without determining what those cheques would be used for.

Official Receiver, Ken Beasley, said: "Mr Smullen caused significant loss to people by causing Worldwide Sports Limited to induce them to invest in a scheme which was not legitimate. It used images without consent; made claims as to assets held and the security of the investments which were not founded; and used the funds raised not for investments, but seemingly for his personal expenditure. In doing so, his conduct fell far below that expected of directors of a limited company.

"In failing to pay proper regard to the company's affairs, Mr Keating, as a formally appointed director and the sole signatory to the bank account, failed to discharge his responsibilities to the company and its creditors.

"The Insolvency Service has strong enforcement powers and we will not hesitate to use them to remove dishonest or reckless directors from the business environment as shown in this case."

National award for charity champ John

Big–hearted volunteer to receive Medal of Honour at Westminster ceremony

Report by Danielle Thompson

A FORMER primary school teacher from West Lancs who has looked after sick, disabled and terminally–ill people on annual religious pilgrimages for more than half–a–century has been recognised with a national honour.

John Fahey, who will celebrate his 72nd birthday at the end of this month, has been given a British Citizen Award for his services to volunteering and charitable giving.

He will receive an inscribed Medal of Honour at a prestigious ceremony at the Palace of Westminster on Thursday (July 9).

The British Citizen Awards (BCAs) were launched in January this year to honour the incredible accomplishments of individuals in society who positively impact their communities. Awarded twice annually they recognise 'everyday' people whose achievements might otherwise be overlooked.

John, from Parbold, has been involved in an annual pilgrimage from Liverpool to Lourdes for the past 56 years as a Brancardier. Brancardiers tend to the sick on their journey to Lourdes and also look after them while they are in hospital in France.

Their jobs include washing, dressing, feeding and toileting the sick with respect and dignity. They also take them from hospital to the Lourdes grotto in wheelchairs or on stretchers for religious ceremonies during the week–long pilgrimage up to three times a day.

Along with other Brancardiers and female 'Handmaids', John look afters more than 100 sick, disabled and terminally ill people throughout each trip.

After first making the trip with his family in 1958, John officially became a Brancardier in 1961 and is now believed to be the longest–serving in England – and possibly Europe. And the tradition is now being carried on by his daughter, Jennifer, who this year will be receiving her five–year medal for her services.

In addition to the Liverpool pilgrimage, John travels to Lourdes for two or three weeks a year to help organise and assist other pilgrimages to the shrine.

In addition to the pilgrimages, John has also selflessly devoted himself to his local community throughout his life. He gave up his Easter holidays for 17 consecutive years to take a group of underprivileged children to a rural camp in North Wales.

During the 1960s, he became treasurer of the Saint Vincent de Paul Society in Ormskirk, providing food, clothes and financial help for the poor in the area and in the 1970s he helped to raise thousands of pounds for disabled children as a member of the Rose Day charity in Aughton.

John has also saved the lives of two people on separate occasions – once in Lourdes and once in Dalton – by intervening with the Heimlich manoeuvre when they were choking.

John Fahey

He said: "I felt numbed when I was told about the award – it hasn't really sunk in yet. None of what I have done over the years would have been possible without the help and support of many others and I would like to dedicate this award to them.

"I would also like to say a special thanks to my beautiful wife, Vivienne, who has been incredibly supportive and understanding throughout the years.

"I enjoy my work on the pilgrimage and it's something I intend to carry on doing for as long as I can."

The awards are supported by property management companiy, Places for People, palletised freight company, Pall–Ex and leading ethical law firm Irwin Mitchell.

John was nominated by his daughter, Jenny, who said: "My father's selfless acts and reassuring dedication to looking after sick people and those in need throughout his adult life, regardless of the cost to himself, has empowered not only myself but many others to become better people. He's very inspirational."

Edge Hill team tackle disease project

EDGE Hill University's biology department are working on a project with Liverpool Port Health Authority to prevent potentially deadly diseases from entering the UK.

Lecturer Dr Clare Strode and research technician Thom Dallimore are working on the collaborative project to monitor vectors of deadly diseases, such as dengue fever, malaria and chikungunya, which may inadvertently be imported into the UK through shipping vessels.

They are using traps called Mosquito Magnets which draw in mosquitoes close to the docks so that scientists and port authorities can act as a border control, looking out for visitations of well–known carriers of disease such as the infamous Tiger Mosquito which is already rapidly populating across Europe.

Thom Dallimore said: "The parasite which causes malaria was present in mosquito populations in southern England as recently as the 1950s, and some species native to the UK are still known to carry diseases in other countries. Recent evidence now suggests that these historical carriers of malaria are becoming more urbanised and are favouring water butts and small ponds in city areas.

"Tiger Mosquitoes don't require permanent water bodies to complete their life cycle, but instead favour temporary pools of water such as those that collect in old tyres and even in discarded cans. The eggs of this species are particularly resilient and can survive outside of water for several months, even in drought conditions, making it easy for them to be accidentally transported between countries.

"We hope to gain a better understanding of the potential mosquito habitats that surround Liverpool docks so that we can predict high areas of risk."

Chance to take a bus ride back in time at Transport Trust's annual open day

Visitors enjoy a previous Merseyside Transport Trust open day Code1051174

Report by Danielle Thompson

MERSEYSIDE Transport Trust will hold their annual open day event in Burscough on Sunday, July 12.

Visitors can view the trust's vast collection of buses in various stages of restoration and this year's event will feature bus rides around the surrounding area, serving local pubs, several scenic West Lancashire villages and supporting local businesses.

There will be many vehicles on display, including some from other preservation groups, plus sale stands and talks about the group's latest projects as well as how people can become involved.

The aim of the event, which will run from 10am to 5pm at the trust's base off Tollgate Road, Burscough, to raise funds for the upkeep of the fleet of more than 50 historic vehicles and to attract new members, volunteers and sponsorship and generate interest within the community.

A registered charity, the trust has many vehicles, from a 1946 AEC Regent II and 1949 Daimler CVA6, through to buses from the MPTE and Merseybus eras, some of which are in private ownership and on loan to the MTT.

The Merseyside Transport Trust and the annual open day are run entirely by volunteers and organisers are always keen to see more people actively involved.

Entry to the open day is free but light refreshments will be available to buy on the day.

And a souvenir programme and guide, priced £3, will also be available with all donations and proceeds going towards the ongoing restoration of the collection.

Lee Wolfe, publicity and events officer at the trust and a member for nearly 10 years, said: "This event is now in its fourth year since moving to our new premises in 2011 and has gone from strength to strength.

"We have been consistently attracting large numbers, which is encouraging for a small charity, but we are always looking at ways to make the event an even bigger success.

"All funds raised on the day will go a long way in helping to keep our collection safe for the future."

Court puts control order on dog after attack in park

A DOG owner has been ordered by a court to keep his dog under proper control in public places after it attacked another animal.

Ormskirk Magistrates Court granted a Dog Control Order on Misty, a female malamute breed owned by Andrew Milligan, aged 55, of Swanpool Lane, Aughton.

The court heard that Mr Milligan was walking his dog in a public open space area off Victoria Road, Aughton when the attack occurred.

She was on the park with two larger dogs and was being exercised off the lead when she proceeded to run across and attack a 12–year–old whippet cross–breed dog called Cassie.

Although Cassie's owners lifted their dog up to get it out of Misty's reach, she subsequently bit and significantly injured one of Cassie's back legs.

As a result the injured dog required veterinary treatment, including an operation, which cost the owners £289.95.

West Lancashire Borough Council took civil action after the owners of the injured dog complained to staff.

Magistrates found Mr Milligan's dog to be dangerous and granted the order, which requires him to keep his pet under control. He was also ordered to pay £500 costs to the council.

The control order also stipulates that Mr Milligan must take a series of other measures with regard to his dog. These include ensuring the dog is muzzled when in parks or public places until it completes a suitable training course with a provider agreed by the council.

The trainer will provide a report to the council to confirm both satisfactory behaviour and that the malamute is safe to be unmuzzled in a public place, at which point the requirement for muzzling will cease.

The order further stipulates that Misty must be kept on a lead to both collar and chest harness at all times when in a public place.

Councillor Kevin Wright, West Lancs Council's portfolio holder for community safety, said: "We welcome the decision of the court in upholding our application for a dog control order in this case. This shows that dog owners must ensure their pets do not pose any danger to other animals or people or they could face legal action."

For information on the council's role with dogs visit www.westlancs.gov.uk/dogs.

and his enthusiasm for engaging the young children in sport was of paramount importance to him. Without doubt he helped hundreds of children, throughout the district, not only to enjoy cricket but to learn some very important life skills.

"John will be sadly missed by his many friends at the club and our very deepest sympathies go to his wife Krista and son James at this very difficult time."

Tributes were also paid on social networking site Twitter.

Georgia Hafez wrote: "I can't believe my primary school headteacher has died, he was such an inspiration and an amazing role model to everyone, RIP Mr Rowlands."

And Andrew Francomb tweeted: "RIP Mr Rowlands – you were a fantastic mentor, headteacher and leader. I'll never forget my time in primary school, thanks to you."

New threat to area's red squirrels

A DEVASTATING disease which is fatal for red squirrels and nearly killed off their entire West Lancashire population during a 2008 outbreak could be back.

Experts are calling on locals to be aware in a bid to prevent the spread of the pox virus.

Concerns have been raised after a squirrel was found suffering from the illness in nearby Blundellsands. Despite treatment by a local vet it had to be put down.

It's the second time this year a red squirrel in Blundellsands has been diagnosed with the virus, and there are growing fears that it could lead to another outbreak similar to the one in 2008 which almost wiped out the population in Merseyside and West Lancashire.

Wildlife Trust red squirrel project officer, Rachel Miller, said: "The pox virus is carried by grey squirrels but they do not suffer from any symptoms of the disease. When it is passed to a red squirrel, it is fatal and the squirrel usually dies within two weeks. The disease can look like myxomatosis in rabbits, with lesions developing around the eyes, mouth and paws."

The trust is asking members of the public to look out for red squirrels with signs of pox and report any to them.

Edible sculpture created to mark store opening

SUPERMARKET chain Booths will celebrate the opening of the new store in Burscough on Wednesday, July 15 by creating a large fruit and vegetable sculpture inspired by the annual Southport Flower Show.

The edible sculpture will be on display when the new development on the Ringtail Retail Park opens next week.

At 30,000 sq. ft. the store is one of the largest stores Booths has opened in recent years, featuring a café, butchery, fishmonger and deli counters.

Situated on the site of a former aircraft hangar on the Ringtail Retail Park it will create 60 new jobs.

Store manager, Richard Ford, said: "Opening Booths in Burscough is a return to the Booths heartland in rural Lancashire. The region is stacked with excellent local producers making and growing some of the finest food Britain has to offer."

'Don't cut bus grant' plea to Chancellor

Reducing or axing subsidy would be "disastrous" for rural communities

Report by Danielle Thompson

CHANCELLOR George Osborne has been warned that any further cuts to rural bus services in his Budget speech today (Wednesday) would 'decimate' outlying communities.

That's the message from the chief executive of an organisation that represents the interests of rural service providers and their communities.

In an open letter to the Chancellor, Graham Biggs of the Rural Services Network (RSN) said that any more cuts to the Bus Service Operators Grant, which helps fund local bus services would have "serious consequences" and that axing it altogether would be "disastrous.'"

Members of the RSN fear that the grant could be reduced or axed in the Budget.

Mr Biggs said that the grant has helped bus companies to keep fares lower for rural passengers, as well as maintaining vital links for local communities and that without it rural bus operators – big and small – faced being driven out of business

According to the RSN at least 97 bus operating companies are earning a return below a level which would be seen as acceptable by their economic regulator and below the cost of capital.

Consequences

Mr Biggs added: "Any such move would further decimate rural public transport resulting in dire consequences for rural communities. Abolishing the grant would be devastating for the wider rural economy.

"Even a reduction – especially following the 20% cut in 2012 – would have serious consequences but eliminating BSOG altogether would be disastrous.

"Removal of the grant would potentially be the final straw as far as many commercial local bus services are concerned.

"With local government spending cuts, there would be no 'safety net' available for local authorities to pick up the pieces and tender for the provision of these services with subsidy."

He said that any withdrawal would accelerate the further loss of rural routes, making congestion and pollution worse – as well as removing the lifeline that buses provide for many local communities.

"Any cut in the grant would, we believe, result in smaller operators – many serving largely rural areas – going out of business."

School's station project set for official opening

ARTISTIC primary school pupils are set to reveal their 'masterpiece.'

The Year 5 youngsters from Aughton St Michael's CE Pimary have been working on their community garden on land at Town Green railway station for the last year. And this week they were putting the finishing touches to the project, named A Conversational Place, in time for its official opening at 1pm on Friday (July 10).

The event, which runs until 4pm, will also feature a range of family–friendly activities, community stalls and refreshments.

The children were inspired to launch the project when they did a walk around the village looking for a scheme to help improve the local area as an Archie Bishop project, run by the Archbishop of York's Youth Trust.

West Lancs Council's arts development service helped develop the project, resulting in a successful application for £15,000 of Lottery funding from Arts Council England, while Merseyrail gave £25,000 to the project.

The children have been putting in the final plants at the garden and have helped to install artworks they have been working on with professional artists Jack Doyle and Caroline Barker, known collectively as 'We Make That'.

Teacher Emma Stone and pupils Oliver, Grace, Cerys and Euan put the finishing touches to the project Code1081978

Dimples Child Care, Springfield Nursing Home, Pavilion Nursery and St Michael's Church have also been heavily involved with providing ideas and feedback for the project.

Emma Stone, senior leader at Aughton St Michael's CE Primary, said: "This has been a fantastic project for the children and they have really learned a lot working with the artists and other people involved. We hope that people from all ages in the local community will enjoy the garden for many years to come."

For the safety of those taking part Middlewood Road in Aughton will be closed between 1 and 4pm.

Councillor Yvonne Gagen, West Lancs Council's portfolio holder for leisure, said: "The children have worked really hard along with staff from the council's arts development service, the artists and all the other groups involved. They can be really proud of their efforts as they have created something really special."

And Sally Ralston from Merseyrail added: "We are delighted with the progress of this project. It is the type of initiative that we love being involved in."

The project was also supported by companies Lorne Stewart, Manor Building Solutions, Creative Impressions, Fairfields, and Germinal.

Woman's pub raid ordeal

POLICE are appealing for information after a woman and her son were left terrified following an armed raid at a pub in West Lancashire.

Three men, armed with hammers, entered the Royal Oak in Liverpool Road, Aughton at about 1.30am on Wednesday, July 1, and made their way to the living quarters where the woman and her 13–year–old son were sleeping.

They entered the woman's bedoroom and tied her up before demanding money and leaving with a small quantity of cash.

All three were wearing dark clothing and spoke with Liverpool accents.

Detective Sergeant Diane Higham of South CID said: "This must have been terrifying for the victim and thankfully she was not injured during the incident. I would urge anyone who saw anything or has any information about what happened to contact us."

Wait is nearly over for new link road

Report by Tom Martin

THE wait is nearly over for motorists who have been left frustrated by the delayed opening of the Thornton to Netherton link road after it was revealed it is finally set to open in the first week of August.

Work on the 2.8–mile project, which cost around £18million, has been delayed on several occasions since it first started in January 2014 but construction is finally coming to an end next month.

But drivers – including many from West Lancs – can now look forward to reduced traffic times as access to the road is now drawing nearer.

A spokesperson for Sefton Council said: "Work on the new Thornton to Switch Island link road is now in the final stages and is expected to be completed in the first week of August. The new 2.8 mile road will be known as the A5758 Broom's Cross Road.

"It had been hoped to complete the works in the spring of 2015. Unfortunately the final stages of the scheme have taken longer to complete than planned.

"There were two locations where additional work had to be done to stabilise the road foundation to make it suitable for laying tarmac on.

"In addition, the method for laying concrete for the new vehicle testing site at Switch Island had to be changed to account for the condition of the material within the old roundabout.

"Plans are in place to open the road to road users in early August. Details of the exact date will be announced soon."

Care trust launch project to fund dogs for disabled charity

Representatives from Lancashire Care NHS Foundation Trust and Dogs for the Disabled

LANCASHIRE Care NHS Foundation Trust have launched a new project to help fund a charity which provides dogs for the disabled.

The Community Equipment Resource Service (CERS) is an innovative use for old equipment that will support Dogs for the Disabled and the £2,000 raised so far has already paid for two puppies to be be trained.

The CERS provides loan equipment, such as beds, pressure relieving mattresses, hoists and nebulisers, to patients in West Lancashire and across the region to enable them to recover in their homes after leaving hospital or to help avoid admittance to hospital altogether.

The service collects equipment from service users' families when it is no longer required and it is then sold as scrap metal, with the money raised given to the charity. The team recently donated their first cheque to the charity for £2,000.

The charity helps people with a wide variety of disabilities and conditions, from assistance dogs helping children and adults with physical disabilities and families with a child with autism, to pet dog autism workshops and innovative projects working in schools and residential care settings.

Viv Shaw, CERS service manager at the trust, said: "We realised that we had some small items of equipment that required disposing of and wanted a way to utilise this in a more productive way. The team wanted to do something positive for a charity and decided that anything that could be sold for scrap was a great way to generate income.

"It has taken some time to get the first instalment but we are delighted to have been able to present a cheque to Dogs for the Disabled. The money will go towards the sponsorship of a dog and will provide assistance with their training and upkeep.

"The dogs provide an invaluable source of assistance and companionship for families and we are so pleased to be able to help this wonderful charity."

Alix Davies, regional fundraiser at North West Dogs for the Disabled, said: "It has been such a delight working with Jo and all of the team at CERS and I have been inspired by their passion in wanting to help the local community. The money they have donated so far is invaluable to our work and has gone towards the costs of two puppies that are both being placed in the North West."

Erin's on song at the double

Erin Howard with Radio City DJ Claire Simmo

A TALENTED young singer has hit the high notes at the double – by winning an annual regional singing competition for the second time.

Erin Howard, 11, from Ormskirk, who attends the Kelly Shirley School of Dance in Burscough, was crowned Northern Stars 2015 Champion at Greenbank High School in Southport last week.

She wowed a music industry judging panel and an audience of more than 200 people with her version of Alicia Keys' hit Girl on Fire to win the junior vocal category.

The fifth annual event was hosted by Radio City's Claire Simmo and included both vocal and dance performers from around the region, culminating in a spectacular guest appearance by Tayleur Amos from the popular television series, Dance Mums.

This is Erin's second Northern Stars success in recent years, having first won the title in 2013.

She said: "I want to thank everyone at Northern Stars for giving me the chance to sing and perform at their event. I'm so thrilled to have won and had a great night."

Northern Stars was created by tutor Amanda Baldwin to promote talent in the North West, by setting up events and competitions to give youngsters aged six to 21 years an opportunity to shine.

Summer fair date

STAFF at a care home in Rufford are hosting their annual summer fair on Saturday (July 11).

The event will run from 2 to 5pm at Alsley Lodge on Station Road and there will be stalls and entertainment for all ages.

It will be opened by the Mayor of West Lancashire, Councillor Nikki Hennessey and all are welcome to stop by and join in the fun.

Youngsters jump for joy after trampoline competition success

By Danielle Thompson

Momentum students bounce way to medal win

YOUNG members of the Ormskirk–based Momentum Trampolining Club bounced their way to a clutch of medals in the final stages of a regional competition.

Ten of the squad, aged between seven and 16, competed at the University of Cumbria Club competition in Lancaster bidding to win places in the Preston City Trampoline Club's North West finals.

All qualified, with sisters Holly Curran, eight, and 10–year–old Hope, winning gold and bronze medals respectively in their age groups

The ten then joined five fellow Momentum members who had already qualified by winning medals at last year's North West competition, to battle against 90 competitors from clubs in Bolton, Lancaster, Preston and Bury for medal or trophies in the Preston finals.

Holly Curran was again outstanding, winning two gold medals and being crowned overall winner in her age group. Sister Hope also won gold.

Members of the Momentum team at Preston, where they won 14 medals and four trophies Code NA

Two more sisters, 12–year–old Olivia Sumner and Hayley, 15, won silver and bronze respectively and club colleague Silvia Smith also won bronze.

Club coach, Carlos Ferra, said: "This was an outstanding performance by our team – we had the best overall result from across all the trampolining clubs in the North West. I was very proud of the efforts that they made and delighted to see them on the winners' podium."

No traffic jams, nice woodlands and a shopping centre – just some of the good things in Skem

AFTER spending ten years in Skelmersdale, moving briefly to Burscough then Parbold, I returned here fairly recently.

I would like to mention a few good points about this town.

For one thing, the traffic is always moving without traffic lights to slow you down.

The parking is free and you can always find a space.

I didn't have a car when I lived here before but I could walk or cycle to most places.

I also had to use taxis and I have to say, I think we have the most reliable and reasonably–priced taxi service in this area.

Skelmersdale has so many beautiful mature trees and woodland areas. It also has as an interesting farming and coal mining history.

Also, the mobile signal was very poor in the other two areas which was annoying – no problem in Skem.

Last but not least is the Concourse shopping area – the weather doesn't matter because it's all under cover.

There is pleasant music, security guys around and the biggest attraction are the low prices!

I just felt it was time to point out the good things about Skem for a change.

Skelmersdale resident,

Town's play areas are disgusting

IN recent months we have been in play areas with our grandson in Wigan, St Helens, Chorley, Lytham, Southport, Blackpool, Huddersfield, Ilkley, Halifax, Lichfield, Swadlincote, Aldershot and Skelmersdale.

By a distance, Skelmersdale's children's play areas are the most neglected, filthy and disgusting we have encountered.

Ultimately one person is responsible for this. Whoever it is should be ashamed of themselves.

Rosie Cooper has been quick to claim credit for the rest of the facilities in her empire, is she proud of this as well?

Mr David Symons,
by email

Permit to dump waste is free

RECENT letters in the Champion about waste disposal in West Lancashire seem to suggest that we have to pay to dump inert waste.

However, residents can dump 10 bags per year free of charge.

All they have to do is apply by phone for a permit and one comes within days.

I have done this myself recently without any problem at all.

My only criticism is that residents have not been properly informed of this in advance.

Valerie Stirling, Aughton

More big shops leave Ormskirk

YET another two large shops have closed in Ormskirk.

The council can spend all the money they want on improving Moor Street but unless the town has shops which are thriving it won't attract visitors.

Will the last one to leave the town centre please turn the lights off!

B. A., Ormskirk

Borough council is out of touch

IT never ceases to amaze me just how out of touch this council is!

They have extended the parking time to all the car parks in Ormskirk except the Wheatsheaf car park. This has the best access to the town centre and, if anything should have a free hour and parking extended to four hours. It's not as if its jammed with cars. Except for Thursday and Saturday this car park is very under–used.

But, of course, this council doesn't want too many people in the town – they might comment on the rundown state of it with all the shops that lie empty and neglected and the general untidy appearance of the place. Don't get me wrong, I love Ormskirk, but I'm very upset about the general state of the town.

We are in danger of losing our rural atmosphere

ALTHOUGH I'm of an age when a retirement complex in Aughton might seem attractive I am still doubtful that the land off Winifred Lane is the right place for it.

When we moved to Winifred Lane several decades ago I was led to believe that the fields between us and the Lydiate boundary was green belt – not a substantial green belt but enough to retain Town Green's rural village 'feel.'

Now, with plans for housing off Parrs Lane, the old folks development mooted close to the village hall and the solar energy 'farm' within the parish I get the feeling that this part of West Lancs is in danger of losing its unique rural atmosphere.

West Lancs is already an enclave surrounded by Merseyside (and worryingly we even have a Liverpool postcode!) but I would not want to see its unique identity depleted further.

Is it the ultimate plan to subsume West Lancs into a Greater Merseyside and create a built–up area stretching from Bootle to Burscough.

It could happen .

Anxious Aughton resident,

Fracking is a danger to us all not just those who live near the drilling sites

FRACKING is potentially the most harmful technology that has ever been invented, in as much as it has the potential to destroy the landscape, pollute the atmosphere, increase climate change through the burning of the gas and irrevocably pollute our water that we need for drinking, growing our food etc.

People that are protesting are no longer 'Nimbys' as they recognise that this technology will affect everyone, regardless of where the drilling/wells are situated.

A government report on fracking had over 60 sections redacted from it – why?

It is for good sound reason that New York state has banned fracking. Maryland has banned fracking, Germany, France, Scotland, Wales and Bulgaria have also banned it. Countries that have moratoriums on any fracking taking place are Romania, Denmark, Ireland, South Africa and the Czech Republic.

Fracking has already caused massive enviromental problems in parts of the USA and Australia.

It has been said that 5% of all well casings fail immediately with a higher percentage failing over the following years.

We in this small island of ours cannot afford to have even one well casing fail because of the eventual water pollution that this will cause.

The resultant water pollution of our water tables would be impossible to clean up as the pollution from a failed well casing would not be immediately noticeable or measureable but would only be evident some time after, maybe weeks or months after, by which time it would be too late.

Fracking must not be allowed to happen at all.

Anyone interested in seeing what damage fracking has done in the USA or Australia should watch the films, Gasland and Gasland 2, by Josh Fox – they are available through Amazon or on YouTube.

A very concerned person who wants to pass this great country on to future generations in good order,

Pals help raise £1,000 to fund holidays for disadvantaged kids

By Danielle Thompson

A PAIR of big–hearted pals have raised more than £1,000 to fund holiday trips for disadvantaged children.

The Merseyside Children's Holiday Fund, which takes more than 60 children from disadvantaged families across Merseyside on holiday to Colomendy holiday camp near Mold in Wales each year, was set up by Roy and Liz Wynne, and their friend Ray Jones, all from Aughton, in 1968.

Now the Wynnes' daughter Lydia, 24, is set to take over the reins of the charity and she started off with a bang by organising a charity night at Ormskirk Rugby Club with her close friend Jess Cradwell, which raised £1,090.

Lydia Wynne with dad Roy, chairman of Merseyside Children's Holiday Fund

Involved

Lydia's mum, Liz, told the Champion: "Lydia has always been really helpful, doing lots for the charity and getting involved in volunteering on the trip since she was a young girl.

"But now she is ready to shoulder more of the responsibility for the charity, with the plan being that one day she can run it on her own.

"She and Jess raised £1,090 to help provide days out for 60 disadvantaged children from the Merseyside area who will be going on holiday in August.

"They both asked local businesses and staff at the John Lewis store in Liverpool for prizes which they raffled to raise a great deal of money.

"They also booked singers, Brown on Blonde, who provided fabulous entertainment and organised a quiz.

"On behalf of the charity I would like to thank everyone who supported this event – and especially Lydia and Jess who did a phenomenal job."

MP backs campaign to protect bees

Report by Danielle Thompson

WEST Lancs MP Rosie Cooper is backing a bid to stop the government lifting a ban on pesticides which campaigners say are harmful to bees.

Ministers are currently considering requests to let the pesticides – known as neonicotinoids – back into UK soil this autumn, despite concerns about how much damage they do to bees.

Recent figures show that bees contribute £651 million to the UK economy each year. Around 85% of the UK's apple crops and 45% of strawberry crop rely on bees to grow.

More than 380,000 members of the 38 Degrees campaign group signed a petition urging MPs to keep the pesticides off British fields and thousands of emails were sent to MPs across the country by their constituents, asking them to urge environment minister, Liz Truss, to keep the ban.

The ban was voted for by European governments in 2013 after numerous scientific studies found that certain pesticides were particularly harmful to bees.

Rosie Cooper said: "I'm committed to doing all I can to protect bees in the UK and am speaking up to make sure this ban on bee–harming pesticides is kept in place.

"This is an issue that lots of us in West Lancashire care about. The government needs to keep the ban in place and deny emergency authorisation for these pesticides."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Manager Paul Kane feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Crosby, Litherland, Aintree, Maghull, Walton, Anfield, Netherton, Bootle, Formby, Ormskirk and Skelmersdale areas & Paul is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Paul a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Protecting the vulnerable is 'an absolute priority' says constabulary's head of crime

Report by Danielle Thompson

PROTECTING children and vulnerable people is an "absolute priority" for Lancashire Constabulary, according to the force's head of crime.

Detective Chief Superintendent Ian Critchley outlined the ways that the force is tackling child abuse and exploitation following the publication of two reports by police 'watchdog', Her Majesty's Inspectorate of Constabulary (HMIC).

The reports highlighted areas for improvement, both nationally and locally, and called for forces to reassess their approach to child protection.

In Lancashire there was a rise of more than 20% between 2012 and 2015 in the number of reports of sexual offences committed against under–16s and a rise of nearly 24% in the number of referrals made around child sexual exploitation in the same time period.

There has also been in increase in the number of reports of historic child abuse and a team of specialist officers investigating these allegations are currently working on more than 20 active investigations.

DCS Critchley said: "Protecting the public from harm and abuse, particularly the most vulnerable, is an absolute priority for Lancashire Constabulary and it is within this area that we have seen a large increase in our caseload over the last few years.

"We are proud of our approach to protecting vulnerable people and protecting our communities from the harm of organised criminality and we have been recognised nationally around our work in tackling child sexual exploitation. We are not complacent in any way and we are continuing to seek to develop our service against a backdrop of austerity.

"The public quite rightly expect the police to deal with and protect them from the likes of child abuse, CSE, online and cybercrime and we continue to face the challenge in terms of resources, time and expertise, to balance offering routes to justice for those who suffered in the past while safeguarding and protecting children in a vulnerable position now.

"The nature of demand is changing and we are responding to that, but these demands aren't always the ones visible to the public.

"For example we have a team of officers dedicated to proactively policing the internet and identifying those seeking to groom young people and share abhorrent indecent child abuse images. This team has already arrested more than 110 individuals so far this year as a result of their investigative work.

"Another area that isn't visible to the public is the management of around 1,700 registered sexual and violent offenders on a daily basis."

A small change to save lives

Landlords across England are being urged to act now to ensure they are ready for new safety laws aimed at saving dozens of lives a year.

The new regulations will make it compulsory for all landlords to fit smoke alarms in rented homes. Under the new laws smoke alarms must be fitted on every floor of the property as well as carbon monoxide alarms in properties which burn solid fuels. Landlords must also check the alarms are working at the start of every new tenancy with potential penalties of up to £5,000 if they don't comply.

The Chief Fire Officers' Association (CFOA) campaigned for more than two years for the legislation to be introduced. Working closely with landlords and the main landlord associations and groups it presented key evidence and research into the Government's national review of the issue.

Mark Cashin, Chair of CFOA's Home Safety Committee, said: "We are delighted that the Government has worked with us to bring in these new laws which will improve the safety of families and stop dozens of people from losing their lives to fire each year.

"While overall smoke alarm ownership in the country stands at around 90%, those living in private rented homes are far less likely to have a working smoke alarm. Statistically people are four times more likely to die in a fire in the home if there is no working smoke alarm and over the next 10 years it is estimated that the new laws will result in 231 fewer deaths and 5,860 less injuries."

The new regulations do not apply to social landlords and Houses in Multiple Occupation (HMOs) as these are both covered by other existing laws.

To help landlords gear up for the new regulations, which subject to Parliamentary approval are expected to come into force this October, the Government has provided local Fire and Rescue Services with a limited number of free smoke and carbon monoxide alarms to distribute to give out ahead of the regulations coming into force.

Landlords should contact their local Fire and Rescue Service to obtain the alarms and receive guidance on where and how to fit them.

Contact details and further information can be found using the website www.alarms4life.com

Volunteers wanted for Prince's Trust team

THE Prince's Trust is looking for young people aged 16 to 24 who would like to develop the skills needed to improve their long–term career prospects.

The charity, which supports 13 to 30–year–olds who are unemployed or struggling at school and at risk of exclusion, is taking entries now for their next 12–week training course.

The next team of up to 15 volunteers, Team 9, will start the course with the Ormskirk branch of the trust on Monday, 21 September.

The team programme is also available for employees who would like a chance to develop new inter–personal skills.

Volunteers will gain new skills and qualifications, mix with new people and make new friends and gain help with job–hunting and writing their CV. They can also make a difference in their community and have a better chance of moving into a job, education or training.

It won't cost volunteers anything and they will be given advice so they won't lose their benefits.

During the 12–week programme volunteers will take on community projects of their own choosing, enjoy an action–packed residential week, a team challenge and two weeks' work experience in a field they are interested in.

To sign up for the course, contact Ormskirk Prince's Trust team leader Jonathon Marlow on 01695 52414 (extension 1614) or email jonathon.marlow@westlancs.ac.uk.

Civic approval for revamped garden

A NEW–look garden area at a dementia support centre has been given a civic seal of approval.

Deputy Mayor of West Lancs, Councillor Liz Savage visited Mere Brook Day Centre in Ormskirk to see their revamped garden.

Acting manager, Sarah Wilmoth, showed Cllr. Savage and her consort Councillor Noel Delaney around the garden, which was recently completed by the Prince's Trust Team 8.

The team of 10 young people aged 16 to 24, renovated the garden over five days, painting sheds and fences and replacing the soil and grass, as well as planting a range of new plants.

The team fundraised for resources and were given bark and pebbles by Massans Suppliers in Halsall.

Mere staff 'play dirty' to tempt fickle flamingos to get breeding!

High hopes that soil 'sandcastles' will do the trick and result in chicks

CHILEAN flamingos at WWT Martin Mere Wetland Centre are getting some unusual help to encourage them to breed during this hot weather – soil 'sandcastles'!

The Burscough reserve's fickle flock of 60 Chilean flamingos have only bred twice in the last 10 years but when staff noticed the birds getting flirty during the hot weather they leapt on the opportunity by starting to build their mud nests for them.

A small team of staff, helped by volunteers, built 20 of the soil sandcastles in just one day.

Mere grounds manager, Steve Nasir, said: "I am absolutely delighted to say that as soon as we created these sandcastles, they sat on them straight away and have already started building nests.

"I am really hopeful for chicks within six weeks. We have had so much success in breeding the greater flamingos at Martin Mere, but the Chileans are very unpredictable birds and it is impossible to tell when they will start laying their eggs but hopefully we have found a way to stimulate them early."

Heatwave prompts plea to pet owners

Report by Danielle Thompson

IN the wake of the recent hot spell pet owners are being urged to make sure that their pets are safe from overheating this summer.

National veterinary practice chain, Vets4Pets, say that summer heatwaves can cause cats, dogs and other pets to overheat in cars, caravans and even conservatories.

Huw Stacey, director of clinical services at Vets4Pets, said: "Most people know not to leave pets in cars on a warm day, but not everyone is aware that conservatories or caravans can be just as bad with temperatures rising dangerously high, quicker than you might think.

"Even when it feels relatively mild outside, the temperature inside a vehicle can reach up to 130 degrees in less than 30 minutes. And while most people think about dogs and cats, we must also help our pet rabbits, guinea pigs and other small pets keep safe in the summer heat."

The chain has issued the following guidlines to protect pets from heatstroke:

For larger pets

• Must have fresh, cold water available all the time in more than one place (check at least twice a day)

• When pets are outdoors make sure they always have access to shade

• Use pet sun block to protect any areas not protected by fur like tips of ears and noses, especially white ones

• Walk dogs either early in the morning or late in the evening to avoid the hottest parts of the day

• Pets with long fur can be clipped to make them more comfortable during hot weather

Pet lovers worldwide were horrified when this dog died in a car in Spain last week

• Watch out for signs of heatstroke and call your vet straight away for advice if concerned. Signs can include excessive panting, extreme salivation, distress and anxious behaviour, dark red gums and a rapid heart rate.

For smaller pets

• Must always have access to shade

• Hutch roofs should be solid in order to keep the sun off and runs should also have shady covered areas too, at all times of the day (the sun moves throughout the day so the shade will move too)

• Move indoor cages out of direct sunlight into a cooler part of the house

• Keep clean fresh water topped up regularly, checking it at least twice a day

• Rabbits and guinea pigs are particularly vulnerable to heatstroke so take extra care of them in warmer weather. Signs include lethargy, drooling and shallow rapid breathing. If you suspect heatstroke call your vet, take them to a cooler place out of direct sunlight and wrap them in a cool damp towel.

Car club's cheque boost for Blood Bikers

MEMBERS of a club for four–wheel enthusiasts have given a financial helping hand to a team of two–wheelers who provide a vital medical service.

The West Lancashire MG Owners' Club presented a cheque for £100 to the North West Blood Bikes.

The Blood Bikes is a non–profit organisation, relying on donations, whose members collect and deliver urgently–needed blood and small medical instruments, samples and sometimes medical notes, throughout the region – from West Lancashire in the south to Kendal in the north and as far eastwards as Burnley.

Stephen Kirton of the West Lancashire MG Owners' Club said: "The Blood Bikes began operating in May 2012 and have saved NHS hospitals hundreds of thousands of pounds and, more importantly, have helped to save lives.

"They have their own controllers who work from home with computers and phones to receive calls and dispatch riders.

"As a motoring club we thought it was fitting to make a donation to this very worthy cause."

Heritage group's walk and talk date

MEMBERS of West Lancashire Heritage Association enjoyed a talk with a difference when they met up at Briars Hall Hotel before walking to Burscough Priory ruins.

On arrival they were given a talk on the history of the site by Paul Kenyon, chairman of Lathom Park Trust, before walking back to Briars Hall for a meal.

University teams up with football club charity

Report by Henry James

EDGE Hill is launching a masters degree in association with Everton in the Community, the official charity of Everton Football Club, in September.

The MSc in sport, physical activity and mental health provides an insight into the relationship between the three areas. This inter–disciplinary course aims to provide the opportunity to "undertake cutting–edge, impact–focused and policy–relevant teaching and research related to health and wellbeing in sport, physical activity and related sectors."

Students will work with academic experts, practitioners and other professionals to further understand the complex links between sport, physical activity and mental health.

They will also develop expertise in the design and evaluation of programmes intended to promote mental health and wellbeing.

The course will also examine how mental health may be compromised, as well as enhanced, by participating and working in community and professional sport.

The programme is suitable for graduates as well as current practitioners, professionals and policy makers, who have an interest in sport, physical activity and mental health or health and wellbeing more broadly.

It will also be "highly relevant" for those working in community and professional sport, including coaches, current and former athletes, safeguarding and welfare officers, and support staff.

Andy Smith, professor of sport and physical activity at Edge Hill, said: "Launched at a time when interest in mental health and well–being is gradually increasing, the course represents another important landmark in the department's commitment to making a positive impact on the lives of individuals and their communities through its conduct of cutting–edge teaching and research in sport, physical activity and mental health."

Michael Salla, health and wellbeing manager at Everton FC, said: "We're delighted to be supporting Edge Hill University with this pioneering MSc programme. Since 2007, we have prioritised our provision within the mental health field and this is a major milestone for Everton in the Community and is another example of the quality of the partnership we have with Edge Hill University."

Professor co–edits book on police management

AN Edge Hill University academic has co–edited a new book exploring the key management challenges for 21st century policing.

Paresh Wankhade, professor of leadership and management at the university's business school, teamed up with visiting professor David Weir to edit the publication, Police Services: Leadership and Management Perspectives.

A former civil servant specialising in indirect taxation and the editor of the International Journal of Emergency Services, Professor Wankhade is recognised as an expert in this field.

His research and publications focus on analyses of strategic leadership, organisational culture, change and inter–operability within the public services.

Professor Paresh Wankhade

Six to get honorary degrees

SIX people are set to receive honorary degrees from Edge Hill University for the contribution they have made to society.

Vice–chancellor, Dr John Cater, said: "We are delighted to recognise the contributions of neuroscientist Professor Sarah–Jayne Blakemore, director Terence Davies, his fellow Liverpudlian popular music pioneer, Peter Hooton, actor, comedian and singer, Jane Horrocks, former pro–chancellor Michael Pinfold, and Dame Janet Suzman, acclaimed actor, director and writer."

The honorary doctorates will be conferred during the university's graduation ceremonies at the Ormskirk campus between July 20 and 24.

Deadline looms for new school travel pass applications

PARENTS of schoolchildren in the county are being urged to think ahead and organise school travel arrangements now for the next academic year.

Education chiefs at Lancashire County Council are asking any parent who has received a letter and application form about transport for pupils transferring to secondary school in September 2015, who may be entitled to help, to return the completed application by Friday, July 17 to guarantee that a new pass is received for the start of the new term.

Anyone who thinks their child may be entitled to help with travel costs when they start secondary school, and who has not received an application form, should contact the school transport Line on 0300 123 6738.

Any sixth–form pupil who has previously travelled on a school bus contracted by the county council may be able to continue to do this, as long as there are seats available, by purchasing a travel season ticket.

Primary school pupils in years 1 to 6 and secondary school students in years 8 to 11 who received help with transport last year, and whose circumstances have not changed, will receive their passes shortly after the end of July.

Pupils attending secondary schools and moving into the sixth form are no longer entitled to transport assistance.

Children who use taxi transport provided by the county council to primary and secondary schools will no longer receive a pass for these journeys. Parents will be informed of new transport arrangements by Friday, August 14.

Transport costs on school buses funded by the county council will increase from Tuesday, September1 . The revised costs are:

•Journeys up to three miles – single fare £1.30, return fare £2.55, annual season ticket £388

•Journeys between three and eight miles – single £1.95, return £3.55, season ticket £540

•Journeys over eight miles – single £2.45, return £4.55, season ticket £692.

More information is available at www.lancashire.gov.uk/schools or by calling 0300 123 6738.

Crowds flock to carnival

HUNDREDS of visitors flocked to the Westhead Carnival last weekend.

The event kicked off with a car boot sale on Thursday July 2, followed on Friday (July 3) with a fancy–dress themed evening event.

Then on Saturday (July 4) it was carnival and procession day with tombola, stalls, games and colourful floats including one themed on American Independence Day.

Mayor of West Lancashire, Councillor Nikki Hennessy and her consort, Paul, joined in with the 41st carnival parade and retiring Westhead Carnival Queen, Ann passed over her throne to new queen, Jessica at the crowning ceremony.

Mum–of–three Jane Brooks, who attended the carnival, said: "It was a phenomenal day, really lovely and I really enjoyed the parade and the performances from the dancers."

Boundary Commission want your views

RESIDENTS and organisations are being asked to help draw up a new pattern of electoral divisions for Lancashire County Council.

The independent Local Government Boundary Commission is recommending that the county should continue to have 84 councillors but in drawing up new boundaries it aims to deliver electoral equality for voters in council elections so that each councillor represents roughly the same number of voters.

The review also aims to ensure that the new county divisions reflect the interests and identities of communities across Lancashire.

Max Caller, chair of the commission, said: "We are asking local people and organisations to help us draw up new divisions for Lancashire. As we develop the recommendations, we will take into account local community identities as well as ensuring electoral equality for voters. Your views will make a difference.

"We will publish all the submissions on our website so that local people can see all the various proposals we receive. Residents will then have a further chance to have their say after we publish our draft recommendations in November."

Local people have until August 31 to submit views.

Rural areas' 'raw deal' on key services

PEOPLE in the countryside are continuing to get a raw deal on essential public services because government funding unfairly favours larger towns and cities, according to the body which represents the interests of rural service providers and rural communities in England.

The Rural Services Network (RSN) say countryside communities are losing out on important funding for local authorities, including for services such as adult social care, public health and schools, as well as the NHS, police and fire and rescue services.

According to the RSN this is not a new problem. And it claims that central government funding to local government is distributed in such a way that rural people end up paying more council tax than urban people yet receive fewer local services.

RSN chief executive,Graham Biggs, said: "This is fundamentally unfair – the system should take full account of higher service delivery costs in rural areas.

"It is widely accepted that those delivering services to scattered rural populations face very significant extra costs but the funding formulae fail to properly reflect this.

"It is not just (so–called) 'super sparse' local authorities and other service providers which must meet substantial additional costs, all predominantly rural and some significant rural authorities/service providers must do so."

Mr Biggs said a recently–introduced £15.5m Rural Services Delivery Grant to reduce the disparity between town and country for some local government services was worth just £1.10 per head in those rural authorities receiving it. This was tiny when the government grant was £178 per head higher in urban areas compared to rural.

Youngsters get a taste for triathlon

Report by Henry James

MORE than 800 young people took part in the West Lancashire School Sport Partnership annual triathlon which was sponsored by West Lancashire Community Leisure Trust for the fifth year running.

A total of 829 Year 5 and 6 primary school pupils were transported into Park Pool at Coronation Park in Ormskirk throughout the day to take part in the 'Try Tri' event, to experience this rapidly growing sport.

Pupils took part in a swim in Park Pool and moved through to the transition area in Coronation Park where they cycled, before completing the event with a run.

Mark Forster, manager of the school sport partnership, said: "This is a fantastic mass participation event that enables schools to provide a new and exciting opportunity to large numbers within their schools. It was great to see pupils taking part and enjoying themselves who had never been out and represented the school in sport before."

Later in the day the event, which was supported and marshalled by young sports leaders from Ormskirk and St Bede's high schools, progressed to the West Lancashire Secondary Schools Triathlon Championships with competitive races for boys and girls from Year 7 to Year 10.

Four of the boys who took part in the 'Try Tri' event at Coronation Park

Winners of the secondary school championships were as follows:

Year 7 girls, Josie Carroll, Ormskirk School; Year 8 girls, Mia Smith, Ormskirk School; Year 9 girls, Holly Rylance, St Bede's; Year 10 girls, Emily Spencer, Ormskirk School.

Year 7 boys, Thomas Hill, Ormskirk School; Year 8 boys, Eoin O'Connor , St Bede's; Year 9 boys, Adam Jones, Ormskirk School; Year 10 boys, Daniel Jones, Ormskirk School.

School's tag rugby team strike gold at county games

YOUNG tag rugby players from Tarleton Holy Trinity Primary School stormed to success by taking the gold medal at the SPAR Lancashire School Games county finals at Stanley Park in Blackpool.

The event, biggest of its kind, saw around 1,800 youngsters from across Lancashire battle it out to be named county champions in 14 sports.

Other notable West Lancs perfomances came from St John's CE Primary, Burscough who won the bronze medal in the mini tennis for Years 3 and 4, and Ormskirk St Anne's Primary School who brought home the plate in the games' most highly–contested event, girls' football.

The SPAR Lancashire School Games, now in its ninth year, is part of the national £128m school games programme which aims to motivate and inspire millions of young people to take part in competitive school sport.

The event is the culmination of a host of inter–school and inter–district competitions with finals in 14 sports including gymnastics, handball, girls' football, netball, athletics, mini tennis and tag rugby.

The event is implemented by the county's school games organisers and Lancashire Sport Partnership's Local Organising Committee (LOC) and sponsored by James Hall & Company Ltd., SPAR distributors for the North of England.

Tarleton Holy Trinity headteacher, Stephen Smith, said: "This is a tremendous achievement for our team who worked hard. They had some tough games against some much bigger schools but through sheer determination, total focus and a never–say–die attitude they won through a very tough group.

"Well done to the captain James Carey and his team of Finlay Perritt, Ben Guerreiro, Dan Stansfield, Maise Robe, Millie Perritt, Livvy Perritt, Eleanor Anderson, Josh Abram, Alex Franco, William Sephton, Jack Rodney and Emily Bates.

"We have qualified for the games three times in the last six years and have medalled at each event winning silver in 2010, bronze in 2011 and now gold.

"And the Perritt family are probably the first in Lancashire to get a full set of medals. In 2010 Cameron Perritt won silver, in 2011 Harry won bronze and this year, triplets Finlay, Millie and Livvy all won gold!"

The winning team from Tarleton Academy

Basketball champs!

YOUNGSTERS from Tarleton Academy have been crowned champions in the Lancashire Schools' Basketball Finals.

The Year 11 team travelled to Bacup and Rawtenstall Grammar school to face Clitheroe Royal Grammar school in the final, which they won with an 84–68 victory.

The Lancashire Schools Basketball Competitions are run annually, to provide competition to aid the development of basketball in the region.

Tarleton Academy's winning squad was Sam Holmes, Luke Hughes, Kelsey Fairclough, Ben Ryding, Euan Coy, Logan Joiner, Michael Sampson, Jack Chicken, Josh Reeb and Callum Price.

School governor Tony Houghton said: "The skill level in the game was of the highest quality from both teams and this was underlined by the fast, end–to–end action. The first quarter was very close but as the game developed the Tarleton defence became stronger and the fast break worked fantastically well.

"In the second half Tarleton held Clitheroe to a 15–point deficit and played with excellent fitness, intensity and organisation. In the final quarter, Tarleton were able to maintain possession and counter–attack when the opportunity arose, this closed out the game and we became Lancashire Champions!

"This was a fantastic end to the season and a fitting result for the boys who now move onto college in September. Luke Hughes was named as the man of the match in the final."

SUMMER SPECTACULAR AT BRUNLEES COURT

Southport retirees and their families are invited to celebrate the summer in style with a special garden party at McCarthy and Stone's development, Brunlees Court.

The free event, which is being hosted in conjunction with Age Concern Sefton, will take place at the Assisted Living development on Cambridge Road on Tuesday 14th July. Guests are invited to pop along to the development between 12pm and 2.30pm to enjoy a tasty finger buffet lunch prepared by the in-house chef, Mark Holloway, as well as strawberries and cream and a delicious glass of Pimms.

Guests will be able to take a tour around the unique development, which offers a selection of high-quality, low maintenance apartments, as well as a range of tailored support services for homeowners and extra care if they need it. Guests will have the opportunity to win a selection of prizes in the raffle which is aid of Age Concern Sefton.

Fiona Brooks, Regional Sales and Marketing Director for McCarthy and Stone, comments: "Our summer open days are a fantastic way for local retirees and their families to come and see first-hand what a happy and thriving community we have here at Brunlees Court. It is really informal and is a great way for potential purchasers to have any questions answered that they might have, and to meet some of our current homeowners who can talk about their experiences of moving here. All we need is for the weather to be on our side so that guests can make the most of the glorious ¾ acre grounds - perfect to relax in the summer sunshine."

McCarthy and Stone's Assisted Living developments aim to bridge the gap between conventional Retirement Living and residential care. Homeowners are able to retain independence in the form of home ownership, with their very own front door, yet still have the peace of mind of a range of additional 24/7 security and support services.

Fiona continues: "At McCarthy and Stone we are proud to help people stay independent for longer and really make the most of every minute of their retirement. That is why we are so committed to delivering an exceptional lifestyle for our residents at Brunlees Court with a beautiful setting, fantastic food and luxuriously appointed accommodation - all with the peace of mind that care, support and friendship is close at hand. This is particularly important to relatives who want to be certain their parent, grandparent or relative is enjoying the very best quality of life."

Facilities at Brunlees Court include a fantastic on-site table service restaurant, a homeowners' lounge, private gardens in which to relax, two lifts, and flexible domestic and personalised care packages, which can be tailored to provide varying levels of support according to homeowners' individual needs. In addition, a dedicated and experienced Estates Manager ensures the smooth running of the development, with 24 hour, 365 days a year on-site staffing, providing peace of mind for both homeowners and their families alike.

The event is expected to be busy, so it is recommended that anyone wanting to come along RSVP their place by contacting the sales team on 0800 201739 or via email at Brunlees.Court@mccarthyandstone.co.uk.

For more information on Brunlees Court please visit www.mccarthyandstone.co.uk.

Arts Centre to host live screenings of plays

THE Arts Centre at Edge Hill University, Ormskirk, is hosting live screenings of plays from the Royal Shakespeare Company and National Theatre Live this month.

On July 16, BAFTA winner and Academy Award nominee Chiwetel Ejiofor (12 Years a Slave) takes the title role in Everyman. This is a dynamic new production of one of English drama's oldest plays, directed by the National Theatre's new director Rufus Norris (Broken, London Road).

Everyman is successful, popular and riding high when death comes calling. He is forced to abandon the life he has built and embark on a last, frantic search to recruit a friend, anyone, to speak in his defence. But death is close behind, and time is running out.

One of the great primal, spiritual myths, Everyman asks whether it is only in death that we can understand our lives. A cornerstone of English drama since the 15th century, it now explodes onto the stage in a startling production with words by Carol Ann Duffy, Poet Laureate, and movement by Javier De Frutos.

July 22 brings the Royal Shakespeare Company's The Merchant of Venice – Shakespeare's uncompromising tragedy, directed by Polly Findlay (Arden of Faversham 2014).

In the melting pot of Venice, trade is God. With its ships plying the globe, the city opens its arms to all, as long as they come prepared to do business and there is profit to be made. With the gold flowing all is well, but when a contract between Bassanio and Shylock is broken, simmering racial tensions boil over. A wronged father, and despised outsider, Shylock looks to exact the ultimate price for a deal sealed in blood.

Chiwetel Ejiofor stars in Everyman Code NA

June Gibbons, arts centre manager said: "The facilities at the Arts Centre are perfect for screening live theatre and we are really excited to be a part of the rich and diverse programme the National Theatre and The Royal Shakespeare companies are producing for community audiences."

Roy Bayfield, director of corporate communications at Edge Hill University said: "Live screenings from internationally–acclaimed performances are a fantastic addition to our Arts Centre programme. There is a special thrill to seeing productions as they happen on the stage in London or Stratford–upon–Avon, right here in Ormskirk."

Bootles star at Marine Lake concert

Review by Ron Ellis

ON what was to become a beautiful summers day, The Fabulous Bootles wowed the crowds at the Southport's Lakeside Cafe last Saturday with a sparkling performance of superb musicianship and solid harmonies that brought rapturous applause from the large audience.

Since starting out in Southport in the 60's, The Bootles have had many years of extensive experience worldwide, individually and collectively, especially in Scandinavia where they have achieved huge success. They have also supported many international stars throughout their careers.

In their current line–up of Alan, Brent and Bernard as The Fabulous Bootles, they gave excellent value with a varied and eclectic mix of 60's and 70's numbers including hits by The Beatles, The Hollies, The Move and many more bands from that era. The event was promoted by The Southport Gentlemen of Rock'n'Roll in collaboration with Big Al Promotions.

Kevin O'Connor proprietor of the Lakeside Cafe commented: "So far this season we have been so lucky with the weather for our open air concerts, it is important that this continues throughout the season."

Sunday, July 12 sees the return of popular 60's stars Herman's Hermits, hit recorders of Silhouettes, I'm into something good, etc. The show is prior to their Australian tour and on the day they will be ably supported by the venues in–house team of entertainers. Chris Eydoe and Tony Christy who will be featuring their Blues Brothers tribute. The show starts at approximately 11.30am.

Auditions being held for Fame – The Musical

PERFORMERS are being given the chance to appear in Fame – The Musical.

Open auditions are taking place this Sunday (July 12) in Preston for the show and producers are looking for new talent, dancers, actors, and singers in the first round.

The show will be staged at the Charter theatre at the Guild Hall on November 16 and 17.

In the next round they will be looking for the principle cast members.

Say Two international productions are behind the production. They toured Fame for nine months to three thousand seater venues. When they were in Italy and Sicily they had sell out audiences.

The production company's are now bringing their Fame production from Milan home to Preston.

The BBC accompanied the team to Milan to film Say Two's Italian production of Shakespeare's, Romeo and Juliet. This was broadcast for British television audiences in a BBC mini–series.

Established for over 25 years, Say Two is a leading productions company. They aim to stage over 60 different productions every year both nationally and internationally.

Christine Appleby, founder and artistic director, has worked throughout, film, television and theatre producing everything from musical theatre to classical Shakespeare.

Now the production is returning to the home town of Preston and producers are looking for local talent who want 'to live forever'.

Based on the Oscar winning musical film and hugely successful TV series, Fame – The Musical is back for 2015.

It is being performed in Preston as part of a new line of promising theatre productions and will be directed by the award–winning director and choreographer Christine Appleby (Say Two Production ltd).

Fame – The Musical will take audiences on a hi–octane roller coaster ride through dizzy heights and crashing lows as a group of star–struck wannabes embark on their quest for the ultimate accolade – fame.

6th July 2014

We wish we could see you one more time.
Come walking through the door. But we know this is impossible. We will hear your voice no more.
We know you can feel our tears. And you don't want us to cry.
Yet our hearts are broken because we can't understand, why someone so precious had to die.
We pray God will give us strength and somehow get us through.
As we struggle with this heartache that came when we lost you.

IN MEMORIAM

SPENCER BRENDA

9th July 2010

A millions times we needed you,
A million times we cried,
If love alone would have saved you,
You would have never died.

In life we loved you dearly,
In death we love you still,
In our hearts you hold a place,
No one can ever fill.

A light from our house is gone,
A voice from our love is stilled,
A place in our vacant home,
Which can never be filled.

Some may think you are forgotten,
Though on earth you are no more,
But in our memory you are with us,
As you always were before.

It broke our hearts to lose you,
But you did not go alone,
A part of us went with you,
The day God called you home.

Your precious memories are for keepsakes,
With which we never part,

But we have you forever in our hearts.

We miss you each and every day and we love you more and more each day.

Love from your husband John, daughter Ann, son Bobby and your loving grandchildren Andrew, Natalie and Stephen.

"Miss me a little – but not too long and not with your head bowed low,
Remember the love that we once shared
Miss me – but let me go.
For this is a journey we all must take and each must go alone,
it's all a step in the Master's plan,
a step on the road to Home.
When you are lonely and sick of heart
go to the friends we know,
bury your sorrows in doing good deeds,
miss me – but let me go."

Classic car show was the highlight of Transatlantic 175 festival

Our resident car nut reckoned TransAtlantic 175 was a hit

AT LAST. After what feels like an eternity, Liverpool's had a proper car show we could all enjoy!

I know that Transatlantic 175 – as a celebration of Merseyside's maritime, rather than motoring, heritage – encompassed a weekend of events focusing on lots of things other than old cars. If you'd wandered down to the waterfront over the weekend, you'd have been greeted with music, vintage fashion and – rather more impressively – the imposing sight of the Queen Mary 2 looming over Liverpool's waterfront.

But for me (and it seems, a couple of thousand others) the real highlight was seeing 200–odd cars, ranging from Austin Sevens to Aston Martin DB5s, dotted around in front of the Three Graces. Not only was it a wonderful sight to behold, but something long overdue.

For years, it's been accepted wisdom that car shows are seas of Sunbeam Rapiers and folding chairs held in the grounds of stately homes and on village greens. Events like the ones at Tatton Park, Cholmondeley and – on a smaller scale, last weekend's Lydiate show – are great are pulling in some very diverse old cars and the band of merry enthusiasts who support them (I should know – I'm one of them).

But big car events held in town and city centres have a different pull altogether – the power to draw huge throngs of car nuts onto the high streets. It's the sort of thing that'd make Mary Portas don a set of driving goggles and hop into a vintage Bentley – thousands of people who love cars going to look at Astons and Ferraris, and then spending their hard–earned cash in the nearby shops afterwards.

The Manchester Classic Car Show, now in its third year, brings more than 9000 car nuts within a stone's throw of the Trafford Centre. Bradford's annual event – held in front of its Grade I–listed city hall – is a bustling event now in its tenth year. That's before I get to the Regent Street Motor Show and how it conveniently gets thousands of shoppers onto the London thoroughfare just before Christmas. There was only one question I heard all the classic car owners asking at the Pier Head over the weekend. When's it all happening again?

Transatlantic 175 set a template for something the powers–that–be should have done ages ago. Liverpool is a wonderful venue with a lot of car–making heritage – let's have more of this sort of thing!

The home side scored 172 for in their (45.0 overs).

Littleborough's openers Clinton Perren (33) and Gary Hulme (20) had got them off to a steday start with a 61 run partnership while professional Mohammad Khan top scored with 45.

Callum Smith and Martyn Farren took three wickets each.

Due to a rain break Ormskirk's target was reduced to 163 from 43 overs.

But Ormskirk struggled from the start in their reply with opener Michael Jones bowled for a duck.

Fellow opener John Armstrong top scored with 52 in 80 balls but no one else made any impression at all with the bat and Ormskirk were dismissed for 107 in 35.1 overs.

Skem Utd join forces with Elite

SKELMERSDALE United Football Club and Elite Sports Academy have combined forces to offer what they claim is the 'highest standard of college football.'

The joint venture will be based at the JMO Sports Park, in Skelmersdale.

Elite are working with Skelmersdale United and other non–league clubs to create what they say is an 'exciting youth system which will give players the opportunity to experience high quality coaching while studying BTEC Diploma's/National's in sport, enterprise and entrepreneurship, personal training or coaching pathways.'

Teachers and coaches work throughout the two year process delivering a range of subjects which allow learners to focus on their academic endeavours, while benefiting from an academy centre which focuses on excellence in performance and fitness.

Students will also gain funding to complete their FA level One coaching badge with a view to move towards the FA level Two.
